To Steam for Europe.

Before the last flurries of snow have melted many travelers have made reservations for steamer trips to go to cooler climates next summer. By the way, you no longer sail, you literally steam. An Omahan who goes abroad each summer says that everyone abroad now says "steam" instead of "sail," unless they are really going on a sailing yacht, but nearly all of the more luxurious yachts are steam. Mr. and Mrs. David Cole will visit Mr. Cole's relatives in Dublin and other points in Ireland, and will leave about the middle of May. They plan to spend two months on the continent and will be away five months. Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, who spent last summer abroad with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess, plan to go abroad again this summer. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fitzmorris will steam for Europe some time in June.

Starts New Fad.

Mischa Elman, the famous Russian violinist, started a new fad in Omaha, but many in the audience were so entranced with the music that they did not notice it. In the end of the second fiddle, bow was a diamond. This novel setting for a jewel caused quite a flutter of excitement among the feminine members of the audience and all of the coming "Mead Powsells" present decided that their favorite stone should straightway be set into their violin bow. Friday evening a violin recital was given by Mr. Frank Mack for his pupil, Miss Margaret Johnston of Glendale, Ia., a talented young miss of about 15 years of age. On the program was also little Miss Sylvia Adler, an infant prodigy of 6 years, who played the Beethoven minuet. The little tot resembled a life-size doll and in the end of the little fiddler's bow was a diamond.

GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD EAT Cowdrey's Irish Entire Wheat Bread AND LIVE 120 YEARS Since its introduction only a few weeks ago it has had a phenomenal sale and is making new friends (to stay) all over the city each day. THE IRISH ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD will be the bread of the Americans in the near future. God created wheat especially to be man's food. The entire wheat kernel contains all of the fifteen or more elements found in the human body—OXYGEN, HYDROGEN, NITROGEN, PHOSPHOROUS, CARBON, POTASSIUM, SODIUM, CALCIUM, MAGNESIUM, SULPHUR, CHLORINE, FLUORINE, SILICON AND IRON, ETC., ETC. There are more people living in Ireland per capita (with a record of their birth) over 120 years of age than any other country. The Irish owe their great longevity to the natural food of man, the IRISH ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD, which was their main food, together with vegetables. NUTRITIOUS PART IS TAKEN OUT The millers take the most nutritious portion of the wheat out (which is fed to cattle); this is done to have a flour that yeast, baking powder, etc., can raise, such as white bread, so-called whole wheat and bran bread. Eat the IRISH ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD, as it has all the waste man requires to prevent stomach trouble and constipation. 80% of the Americans suffer from constipation. THE IRISH ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD will make better boys, better girls, better men and better women physically, mentally and morally. Eat the IRISH ENTIRE WHEAT BREAD at each meal and you will retain the vigor of your youth to a ripe old age. WHAT GOULD AND ROOT SAY C. Z. Gould, Manager Penn Mutual Life Co.—I shall continue to eat the "Staff of Life" as long as I live. I consider it will be the bread of the future in this country. H. J. Root, W. O. W. Bldg.—The "Staff of Life" has no superior. It is easily assimilated and in a few days ends constipation. I shall eat no other bread.
